The President
Real Academia Espanola
Calle de Felipe IV 4
Madrid, Spain

Dear Sir,

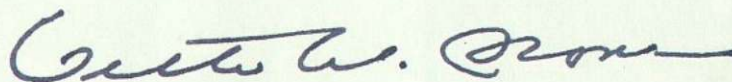

The National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America was founded in 1863. The 100th Anniversary of that momentous event will be celebrated by the Academy during the week beginning October twentieth.

My colleagues join me in extending to you a cordial invitation to be our guest in the City of Washington on that occasion. If, to our great regret, you find that you cannot attend, we hope you will designate another to represent the Real Academia Espanola.

During the course of the next few months, we will send you further details concerning the Centennial convocations and social events, and the scientific discourses that will provide a unique opportunity to review the development of science during the past century and view the opportunities which scientists can now envision.

With high regards and cordial greetings, I am

Yours sincerely,

Detlev W. Bronk
Past President
Chairman, Centennial Celebration
